We use a professional, local photo lab that uses 80 year archival ink and high quality photo paper to process our prints in order to guarantee quality and long lasting color; an assurance that generations of your family will continue to enjoy and remember the occasion from these prints.

Hardback Slim Canvas Wraps are made from professional photographic paper. The local lab we use strips the paper backing from the print and then heat presses it into a thick 10 oz. canvas for a full, rich texture. They then add a rigid board backing between the canvas and the frame before it's wrapped so the customer will never have to worry about rippling, sagging, or loose canvas.
